

Christmas Drive Approaches Climax With Wednesday Night Dance Effort; Individuals, Units Continue Donations

This week's mat dance is under the sponsorship of the Brigham Young University Christmas Drive Committee, marking one more step in collecting student contributions for the drive. Under the supervision of Leone Seeley, Mt. Pleasant, the mat dance is set for 5:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Social Hall. Instead of the usual ten cents admission to the dance will be 25 cents or one item of clothing, toys, or non-perishable food.

Church Leader Will Present Today's Talk

Elder Joseph Fielding Smith, president of the Council of Twelve, will be devotional speaker today.

His subject has not been announced.

Elder Smith has been an apostle more than half his life. He was ordained to this position 47 years ago by his father, President Joseph F. Smith, sixth president of the Church.

Lights Go On

More lights are being turned on each day on the Christmas tree in the Physical Sciences building lobby, but there are a number of organizations who have not yet filled their quota, according to co-chairmen Lynn Staheli, Provo, and LaPrele Olsen, Ephraim. Organizations who have not yet filled their quotas are urged to do so at once. The drive will end Thursday at 5 p.m.

Contributions are being accepted daily between the hours of 12:41 p.m. and 4:55 p.m. in room 181 of the Student Service Center. For the benefit of those students who may not be able to meet these collection hours, and for those who want to make additional contributions, a booth is set up in the Science building lobby where contributions may be made. The booth is open between the hours of 8:30-9:30 a.m. and 11:12 p.m. today and 8:30-11 a.m. tomorrow.

Boxes in Cafeteria

There are also donation boxes at the cafeteria's signed in each campus cafeteria, where students may make contributions.

All contributions will be turned over to the County Welfare Agency for distribution to needy families of Provo and the surrounding districts, to provide a merrier Christmas for these people.

Provo Businesses Request Carols

The Provo Chamber of Commerce has requested that student organizations take part in community caroling. It was announced recently by Kent Lloyd, student public relations director.

The caroling program is being carried out under the direction of Dale Laub, and plans are being made under which all organizations as well as dorm students will be encouraged to carol during the Christmas season.

Students may carol in small groups if they wish, and caroling may be carried on in downtown street corners, or in residential areas, stated Mr. Laub.

FOR THE NEEDY—Pat Methvin, LaPrele Olsen and Lynn Staheli look over some of the latest contributions to the annual Christmas drive with Kris Kringle himself. Students are all out to support the drive which ends Thursday.

Tickets Now Available In New Sales Window

The basketball ticket sales window has moved to the main lobby in the north entrance of the fieldhouse.

Hours for this window are 9:12 a.m. and 14 p.m. On game days the window will close early, but open again at 6:30 p.m.

Students are permitted to pick up only four tickets for each athletic event.

Students must present their activity cards in order to get into the game.

Wye Magazine Ready Today

"The Wye," Brigham Young University's student literary magazine, will be distributed today beginning at 12 noon. Tentative disbursing points have been designated by Douglas Thayer as the Joseph Smith building and Science building lobbies and the Education building on the lower campus. Mr. Thayer, who is overseeing the distribution, will be assisted by Y. Calcaires and Intercollegiate Knights.

Students may obtain their copy of the 32-page magazine with their activity card, which will be punched by those handling distribution. Mr. Thayer said.

This issue, first of three proposed this year, contains student poetry, short stories, photography, art and non-fiction articles, many of which have been illustrated by student staff members. Editor of the magazine this year is Richard Pope, senior from Fish Haven, Ida.

An outstanding feature of this issue, Mr. Pope said, is an article "Santa Claus Land," by Lynn Dallin, of the BYU Public Relations office. A short story, "And Should We Die . . ." by Mrs. Klea Evans Worsley, is also one.

Mistletoe Frolic Scheduled In Two Campus Ballrooms

"Candlelight on the Mistletoe" is the theme chosen by Delta Phi for the annual studentbody dance, Mistletoe Frolic, which will be held Saturday night.

The dance is scheduled for the Social Hall and the Joseph Smith ballroom immediately following the basketball game between Texas Christian and BYU.

Banyan Campaign Now Underway; Goal of 4000 is Set

The third of four major Banyan sales campaigns for this year is under way this week, according to Bill Gallagher, Banyan business manager.

With a goal of 4,000 books to be sold by January 31, the campaign is geared to acquaint students with new features of the 1953-54 Banyan, said Gallagher.

The yearbook will be printed off campus for the first time in a number of years, and will include a larger page size as well as enamelled paper.

The sixteen opening pages of the book will be printed in color, as well as all division pages. This is being done at considerable cost, and Mr. Gallagher

Wilford Geddes is dance chairman and his assistants include Lloyd Stevens and Owen Sweeten, publicity; Jim Merrill and Clave Snow, decorations; Paul Nuttall and Ken Glover, refreshments; Stan Houston and Keith Munk, tickets; and Wendell Jensen and Dave Swanson, Kermis.

Decorations will carry out the Christmas theme and will include Christmas trees, pine and mistletoe wreaths, electric candies and Merry Christmas signs.

As the final regularly scheduled studentbody dance of 1953 the Frolic will help send students into final exam week with a feeling of good cheer.

Banyan Features Students In Campus Picture History

by Jerry Cahill
University Assistant Editor

The Banyan, annual yearbook of Brigham Young University, is a four hundred-page pictorial review of all that happens on campus. It features pictures of students, faculty, organizations and activities. This year, 111 students are working daily to prepare the Banyan for publication and distribution in November.

The careful selection of pictures, editorial content and completeness of coverage make the Banyan valuable as a scrapbook of school life.

Yearbook Editor Directing preparation of this year's Banyan is Mary Anne Carter, Salt Lake City. She was appointed editor-in-chief last spring after being interviewed by the publications committee, which includes five faculty members and five students.

Sales campaigns and business aspects of Banyan publication are the concern of Bill Gallagher, business manager, also an apolitical of the publications committee. The editor selects all other members of the editorial, photographic, and artistic staff. Faculty advisors are Maynard Dixon, Stewart, art, and J. White Morgan, finance.

Subscription Sales Since there is no appropriation made from student body fees, the Banyan is dependent on money gained through subscription sales and sale of organization pages. The greater the sales the bigger and more colorful will be the book.

The emphasis in the yearbook, through all the changes of time, is the student in all his many activities. So every student's picture is published in the section with his class.

In addition, every organization, honorary, social or geographical may purchase a page and each member's picture will appear on that page. Printed free of charge is one activity picture of each organization.

Other divisions of the book feature University administration, student government, sports, and colleges, as well as familiar scenes on campus.

Telecast Show Will Feature Campus Talent

Because of the fine talent displayed by Brigham Young University students, KBYU-TV has asked the university to produce one of the biggest television shows in Utah.

Plans are being made through the combined efforts of students and faculty, to stage the show Monday at 10 p.m. in the field house. It will be centered around a Christmas theme portrayed in ten different sets.

The cast will be composed of over 100 students and an additional 100 or more students will be needed to man the sets.

The a cappella choir, directed by Lowell H. Wright and a combo under the baton of Chuck Ballou will be featured in addition to dance and instrumental groups. All radio and television students are cooperating with the Student Program Bureau and KBYU personnel to produce the TV show.

Some of the scenes will include carolling, Santa Claus, and Christmas tree festivities.

The script will be written by Allen Cornwall with the help of Geon Skousen, BYU administration representative, and Owen Rich, production coordinator.

Wye Magazine

of the highlights of this issue, he added. Mrs. Worsley, former student of BYU who graduated last June, is the mother of BYU's well-known Worsley sister.

First issue of this student publication appeared in 1921 under the name "The Literary White and Blue." Since that time it has appeared under various other titles, one of the best known of which was "Scratch." Publication has not been continuous, because of lack of funds and war-torn conditions. The name "Wye" was adopted in 1939, and since that time 12 volumes of the magazine have appeared.

Printing is done at the BYU press department, supervised by Frank Haymore. The cover, blue ink on light blue paper, was designed by Gayle Walker.

The magazine this year has good variety and pleasing make-up. The department, Thomas Cheney, English department, who is faculty adviser of the publication. "The section of art reproductions is particularly good," he added.

Education Conference Favors Adoption of BYU Rush System

One outstanding result of a recent conference at Denver attended by Russell Mickelson, IOC president, was the move to adopt the system of social unit rush activities now in effect at Brigham Young University.

The conference was sponsored by the Mountain State Committee on Equality of Educational Opportunity in Higher Education. The two-fold purpose of this conference was:

1. To formulate a statement of principles which can be applied in institutional administration as an example of administration without prejudice, and

2. To inculcate in the student, by application of these principles in and out of the classroom, a consciousness of human values which will better enable him to make decisions without prejudice in his college and later life.

This was the first time BYU has been represented at the conference so Mr. Mickelson had the opportunity to explain the rushing system used by social units on this campus, which leaves the choice with the individual and not the unit.

LETTERS AND EDITORS

Once again this year we would like to state our policy concerning letters to the editor. First, and most important, we welcome all letters, both those favoring our policy and those opposing it. However, we would ask students to make sure that they realize what our policy is.

Most students feel that everything found on the editorial page is paper policy. This is not the case. The editorial page can be divided into three main sections; editorial, letters to the editor, and signed columns.

Editorials are written by the editorial staff, are found in the left hand columns and are unsigned. They represent the policy of the paper.

Letters to the editor are just that. Letters written by students to the editor commenting either upon editorial policy or university affairs. They are signed by the individuals who write them, and do not in any way represent the way the University feels about any particular subject. Incidentally, due to space limitations, they should not be longer than 200 words.

Signed columns are somewhere between letters and editorials. All University columnists are responsible to the editorial staff for column material, but only to the extent that if any material seems entirely against paper policy the University reserves the right to withhold publication of the offensive material.

Columnists have considerably more freedom than editorial writers, but the responsibility for what they write is their own. All columns are signed, and the opinions put forth in the column represent the opinions of the writer.

Once more may we state that the official policy of the University is set forth only in the editorial columns.

BULLETIN BOARD

This space is reserved for announcements affecting the whole student body. Notices for organizations, considered part of the official Bulletin Board and will be included on the society page. Deadlines for the Bulletin Board are: Tuesday's paper, Friday 10:00 p.m.; Thursday's paper, Tuesday noon.

Ticket Lines Bring Back The Old Days

by Dallas Burnett

Even with a fieldhouse seating 1,300 people (that's what the drum beaters say anyway) the games reminded us of a few years back when our games were being played in the Springville auditorium.

Both Friday and Saturday nights there were two student lines stretching for a couple of hundred feet at the west entrance of the fieldhouse. The line of the long line and waiting in the bitter cold was that some of the ticket takers insisted on checking birth certificates and genealogy charts before letting anyone into the building.

A Real Thrill

We suppose that there are still quite a few students on campus who have gone through the experience of getting a ticket and attending a basketball game in Springville. But for the majority of the student body who haven't had that thrill, we feel it a little late.

One year, tickets for all first games were given out on the first game first served basis. With only 1200 student seats available, there was a certain amount of competition among the 4,000 students for those seats.

For one University of Utah game the ticket line started forming the night before the opening of the office, and there were several hundred basketball addicts who were there. It wasn't so bad, though, since kind hearted officials moved the group into the Smith hall and let them dance part of the night away.

But to top off all this standing in line for a ticket in years gone by, it was also necessary to get out to Springville at 11:00. With hours before game time in order to get any wind of a decent seat. And we were complaining about standing for a few minutes last Friday and Saturday.

Winter Adds A Bright Touch To Women's Campus Attire

White fluffs of snow are decorating everything. Not only is the world about us fringed in white, but also campus girls. They have picked up this trend of Christmas that is in the air and bedecked their outfits in lovely white.

Some of the new decorating ideas on the Brigham Young campus are the little white snowballs, white fluffy collars and caps. They are seen in some way, on nearly every girl here. These snowballs look like "Mr. Cottontail winter creation" with a touch of black velvet furnishing a perfect accent. They are worn in bows or tied to the side. Either way they brighten up and add the extra touch to sweaters, coats or winter.

Jewel Collars
The fluffy collars are often bejeweled with either rhinestones or pearls and can change an outfit into something special. Not only that, but these decorative accessories are one of the most economical ways to add life to that old sweater.

Heads that once were bare, are now seen crowned with light fluffy hats which are not only white, but are seen in hues of pink, yellow, and blue. They match each outfit and add a touch of winter.

Color Harmony
As far as color harmony is concerned, all of these blend with anything. And they look very smart when worn with matching accessories, such as a pair of angora mittens.

For perfect inexpensive Christmas gifts you can not pick anything that would be nicer or more appreciated.

HAWAIIAN CLUB

There will be an important meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in 230 Education. After the meeting, everyone will go caroling. Please! We need your "kokua" very much. In appreciation there will be a party after the caroling is through. This will be the last meeting for the quarter.

IDAHO-YANKEE CLUBS

An exchange is planned with the Yankee Club Wednesday, Dec. 9. Everyone is to meet in room 230 of the P.S. before leaving to go Christmas caroling. Idaho club will hold a business meeting at 7 p.m. and the exchange will begin at 7:30.

VAL HYRIC

Members of Val Hyric helped pass out cards for the special card section at the BYU-Utah football game and will again back the card section, under the direction of Gene Garrett, during basketball season.

Rushing committee members elected for Winter quarter are: Keith Humphries, Nile Jensen, Ralph Jorgensen, Farrell Monson, Dan Van Noy, and Bob Froelich.

A Camel Los exchange will be held this week, with Chick DeGraw as chairman. The Val Hyric-Aleyone assembly scheduled for Jan. 21 is being planned. Art Hiles and Dan Van Noy are working on the script with Aleyone committee members.

WHITE KEY

All Junior women are invited to attend an openhouse Thursday at 5:15 p.m. in the J.S. Club room. Purpose of the meeting is to find out qualifications for membership.

Y CALCAIRES

Fun and a sleep-free night are promised Friday at a slumber party in the women's gym. Chairman June Bennett has outlined plans for attendance at the Y's as Christmas basketball game en masse, and then as excursions to the slumbering place for fun, food, and frivolities.

BYC

A Christmas exchange celebration will be held at 6 p.m. in the Banquet Hall. The affair will be a potluck supper, with the Y's furnishing the main course and the Knights providing drinks and dessert.

Games will be played, and the group will end the evening by doing caroling.

A special Christmas program and dance will be held in addition to regular classes tonight. North Campus Branch: 6:30 p.m.

Wrestling, Fencing, Tennis Share Intramural Spotlight

Fresh "wrestle" enthusiasts are laying tresses over the landscape of the wrestling room in the fieldhouse as their some 30 grapplers have two more night performances in the tourney. Reed Nilson, wrestling coach, hopes to develop some wrestlers out of these first quarter freshmen. Some of them have had high school experience also. Gary Rollins and Lowell Thomsen are in charge of weigh-ins. Other officials gained their finer points on the variety also.

Fencing Club
"Fence" Perusse, BYU fencing master, is showing 80 students and faculty members the art of attack and defense with foil.

Letter-day U'Arizians can be seen crossing their foils on Wednesdays and Fridays at 4 p.m. in the south handball court in the fieldhouse.

Table Tennis
The clacking sound one hears isn't the change in atmospheric pressure when entering the fieldhouse. It's only some of the 64 table tennis tourney contest sets exchanging pips in single eliminations on the three tables. Finals will begin next week.

Fresh Basketball Inroads Tilt Featured 'Talent'

Freshman basketball talent was put before the public for the first time Friday and Saturday. The games were intrasquad at first, pitting the whites against the blues. The Whites came out on the short end of the six quarter tilt. Thirteen players saw action on each team.

John Terosso and Lynn Howe playing for the blue, took him on for both teams with 15 points apiece.

Anderson and Lythgoe looked impressive for the blues as they were driving in well to lady 10 and nine points, respectively. Dave Lombard played a good floor game for the blue, while Russ Jones lanked 11 points for the winners.

On the white squad, Newson and Bacheiler showed fine form. Newson collected for 13 points and played a good backboard game. Bacheiler passed well and lanked seven points for the white team. Watkins and Kitchen scored seven and six points, respectively, for the high scoring whites.

Coach Stan Watts has a goodly number of prospective Cougar ball handlers in the Fresh team this year.

GET THAT BALL.—Tom Karren, 6' 2" Cougar forward fakes a couple of Bengal attackers out of position and then hands the ball off to John Taylor, speedy Cougar forward Blaine Anderson, at extreme right, backs up the play.

Wyoming, USAC Win In First Casaba Game

After the first week of play it would seem that the Sky League will be hard to beat when it comes to basketball. Around Casaba every team made a clean sweep of its games—except Utah and Montana. Wyoming had the best success, as the Pol took three straight from Montana State.

Playing first in Montana and then twice in Wyoming, the Cou boys of Wyoming rolled over Montana State three nights in a row, by the scores of 82-50, 87-47, and 87-45. On Friday night the Cowboys tallied 80 points for their easy victory. Jorgensen and Sharp netted 15 markers, while their teammate Cag was sinking 16.

Utah Was 3

The journey to Portland proved successful for Utah State as the Ags emerged the winner of both contests. Led by sharp shooting of Bob Harrison, who netted 18, and the outstanding late mania play of Martell Boston, the Ags fought their way to a thrilling overtime victory, 70-68.

Saturday saw the Utah State again coming out on top, this time to the tune of 94-78. Of more the Ags had to shatter their stuff in the second half, twenty-five fouls were up on twenty attempts, after eleven had been missed in first half.

California Drops Ute

Utah needs hoping but both impressive as they were of fought last weekend by a class Southern Cal team. Friday, Ute were downed by the pants 54-48.

An inability to score on guards and the emergence of the backboards by Southern Ute were the reasons for Saturday's defeat for Utah.

In other games: BYU and southern Idaho State, 70-59; 63-50; Colorado A&M knock over Colorado College by 88-68; Kansas State overhauled Denver, 70-41; and Montana fell over Washington State, 67-55.

Cougars Romp On Bengals In Cage Season Opener

by Ed King - Universe Sports Writer

Just in hand with the winner and just as blustery, the Brigham Young University Cougars roared into their 1963-64 basketball season, Friday and Saturday night, with 75-54 and 63-50 wins over Idaho State Bengals.

Playing before two of the smallest season opening crowds of all time for both games, the Cougars' first victory chances sank even lower. It was at this point that the reserves again made their appearance and played out the clock.

Through the season showed youth at times for both in the games all in all were eventful and displayed the old-fashioned brand of basketball typical of the Rocky Mountain West.

Cougars Win Opener

In the first game, Matejka, in Larsen, Tom Karren, and lowered the boom on the Bengals first by slicing the defense to pieces, and then changing roles and defending the other in clear back to the mid-air stripe. As the game started, Matejka got the first basket to have their points matched even times by the Cougars. As the game started for the rest of the game, and as the Cougars opened under the fans' eyes, a small look at the U's future team.

In the fourth quarter the high-flying Cougar sophomore, Larsen, over and displayed their own they weren't at all disarming. This game's action was so exciting, Nick Matejka was scoring horses with 10 points, while Sam Beekham added 14 for the Bengals.

Bengals Take Lead

In the second of the second game, the Cougar sophomore, Larsen, took the lead, and it looked as if they were out to avenge the night's earlier loss. The first minutes, however, were the moments of supremacy for the Cougars, as Matejka, in the first period the Cougar found the range and, behind 15 point performance of Sam Larsen, started leveling margins.

With Sherman Crump, Tom Karren and Van Dargatz leading Larsen play, the Cougar then brightened the Y fans' perspective considerably by leaving the floor at halftime with a 40-30 lead. The second half found the atmosphere a bit rougher, but in the process, Matejka's 67th, Dick Bauer, left the floor via the personal foul route. In the closing of Bauer, who played tremendous game both on the offense and defense, saw the Bengals

Miami Golf Tourney Will Close Pro Season; Fight Listed

NEW YORK (AP) — The last word football being, known as "busted," is preparing to divorce itself almost completely from the rest of the country and we think winning will be desirable but not necessarily vital. Presidents of eight of the nation's oldest and most honored institutions — Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Columbia, Cornell, Penn. Brown, and Dartmouth — are expected to meet next month and formally organize the " Ivy League" which up to now has been only a state of mind.

Various Sports Featured In Fall Program

Activities in the women's intramural program have been many and varied this fall. Featured in the program have been tennis, volleyball, archery, field hockey and table tennis.

In the tennis tournament, completed some time ago, Mary Ann O'Driscoll defeated Joyce Anderson in the championship round of the singles event in doubles play. Lavern Casper and Ann Novak defeated Judith Black and Sharon Liven to become champions in that division. The tournament was under the direction of Kathryn Lewis and Duane Briggs.

New Program
A new program was instituted in the women's volleyball tournament this year. Under direction of officers Barbara Chen and Valerie Garff, separate tournaments were held for social units and independents. Six social unit teams and 19 independents participated in the double elimination event. In the championship tilt, Neatius defeated Lambda Delta Sigma for social unit honors while the Hawaiian Club swept through to overcome the Oregon club in the independent championship.

Currently underway is the table tennis tournament which will complete women's intramural activities for this quarter. One of the stipulations in the women's intramural is that not more than two physical education majors can be on any one team. This makes for more evenly divided teams and keener competition, officers reported.

By 1964, the earliest date possible because of existing contracts, the education hope to have every team in the league meeting each of its fellow members every season. It is the next logical step, they feel, after their gentlemen's agreement of last year banning spring practice.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sam Snead's tournament, the $10,000 Miami Open—will bring the 1963 professional golf campaign to a close this week, and the veteran slammer from West Virginia will be here to try for his sixth championship.

They started calling it "Snead's" tournament after Snead won it the fourth and fifth times in 1950 and 1951. Qualifying starts Tuesday.

NEW YORK (AP) —Paddy DeMarco, No. 2 lightweight from Brooklyn, faced Carlos Chavez of Los Angeles in a 10-rounder at Eastern Parkway Arena Monday night. The aggressive DeMarco was an 11-5 favorite.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) —By air and by ground Pasadena College moved against West Contra Costa College in the 6th annual Pelota Bowl football game to win 28-13, Saturday night.

BOSTON (AP) —Boxer Tommy Byrnes and by ground Pasadena College moved against West Contra Costa College in the 6th annual Pelota Bowl football game to win 28-13, Saturday night.

Stage Use To Be Aired Over KCSU

Four panelists will discuss the monopoly of Smith Building Auditorium by play practices and presentations on the "Universe of the Air," Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. over KCSU. Directed by Dick Wilkins and Jack Zenger, participants will consider whether plays should take precedence over student activities.

Members of the panel will be a representative of the Speech department, and a second faculty member in addition to Wilkins and Zenger.

Also to be discussed is the question, "If activities are scheduled every weekend, how will they effect scholarship?"

Two Scholarships For Musicians Are Being Offered

Two scholarships of $1000 each, one to a pianist and one to a composer, again are being offered by the Chopin Scholarship Fund, according to Mrs. H. B. Mense, president of the Utah Chapter of the Associated Federation of Music Clubs.

Chopin piano scholarships are open to young men and women between the ages of 15 and 21, and composers 17 and 30, who are legal residents of the United States. They are intended for young musicians of high artistic and personal qualifications who have already demonstrated unusual talent in piano playing or composition, but who, in the case of pianists, have not made extensive professional tours.

First Presentation of 'Messiah' Since 1947 Set For Wednesday

Wednesday night will mark the first presentation of Handel's immortal oratorio, "The Messiah," on the Brigham Young University campus since 1947.

A chorus of 250 voices, composed of the A Cappella Choir, Madrigal Singers, and College Choir, will present the oratorio, accompanied by the BYU symphony orchestra and organ. Prof. Lawrence Sardoni will conduct.

Soloists for "The Messiah" will be Marilyn Oakley and Marva Danco, sopranos; Lorna Erickson and Joan Hoppe, contraltos; Richard Dasturp, tenor; and James Gibbons and Richard Robson, basses.

Wednesday night's concert is set for 8:15 in the Joseph Smith Auditorium. The general public is invited as well as students and faculty members. The concert will be repeated, especially for students, Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Smith Auditorium.

"The Messiah" deals with the life and mission of Jesus Christ upon the earth. It is divided into five sections—the Prophecy, the Fulfillment, the Passion and the Crucifixion, the Glorification, and the Resurrection.

It has been a popular work with both musicians and laymen since it was completed in 1741 and is still sung more than any other similar choral work.

Opera Series Scheduled; Soloists Listed

In an attempt to acquaint the opera students with modern operas and give more students experience in operatic performance, the Brigham Young University Opera Workshop this year is presenting a series of one-act operas.

Directed by Dr. Don L. Earl, the group is currently working on three operas — "The Telephone" by Menotti, "In A Garden" by Kipling, and "Sunday Excursion" by Alec Wilder.

Valerie Sazise, Los Angeles; Joann Smith, Idaho Falls; Frances Atterton, Chehalis, Wash., are learning the soprano role of Lucy in "The Telephone" while Jack Garbett, Payson, will sing the baritone role of Ben.

Cast members for "In A Garden" are Glorian Albright, Provo; Prairie, Kan.; Patricia McCourt, Sunnyside; Bruce Wurst, Arlington, Calif.; and John Marlow, Blackfoot, Ida.

Kate McGuire, Heber; Donna Bernard, Oklahoma City; Janice Kimball, Salt Lake City; Geraldine Hoehstasser, San Francisco; Darrell Anderson, Cambridge, Minn.; Reed Miner, Springfield; Gene Larson, Burley, Ida.; Earl Kern, Malad, Ida.; and Eugene Hincso, Salt Lake City, are learning roles for "Sunday Excursion."

Accompanists for the operas are Little Dotie, Los Angeles; Maurine Benson, Pomona, Calif.; Marilyn Tait, Rigby, Ida.; and Robert Hamilton, Paul, Ida.

Sets for the operas were designed by Rue C. Johnson, Provo, and constructed by Robert Wright, Pleasant Grove.
